

PUBLIC

LEDGER

WEEKLY REPUBLICAN—1897.
DAILY PUBLIC LEDGER—1898.

MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1912.

ONE COPY—ONE CENT.

Vanishing Idols.
The idols vanish that we love,
The very sad;
Today we hear but little of
The liver pad.

—Pittsburgh Post.

We've had some six or seven weeks
Of spring, alas!
And still nobody ever speaks
Of sassafras.

—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

We still see lots of queer stuff sold,
And rubbery deal;
But what has become of the old
Electric belt?

—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Gasoline has advanced to 19 cents.

For Good creamery butter, buy Clover
Blossoms at the French Exchange, 111 Sutton street, 29c pound.

The funeral of Mrs. Henry Orr will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from her late home in West Third street.

LET UNCLE SAM
GIVE YOU THE FACTS

Government reports show the steady output of coal during the last few years has made the dealers push for wider markets. We are going to get more trade—your trade—by giving you a greater value for your money.
You will never get out of debt unless you buy wisely.

MAYSVILLE COAL CO.

PHONE 142.

When needing dental work call on Cartmell.

When Your Tools Need Grinding

It is but the work of a minute to sharpen a chisel, a plane, a knife or any edged tool on a Keen Kutter Grindstone.

Made of very carefully selected Berea grit—mounted on an extra braced tubular frame that never sways or "wobbles." Ball bearings and double tread make it run as easy as a bicycle. With this grindstone and an outfit of

KEEN KUTTER
Tools and Cutlery

you are always ready for the finest or heaviest work.
Keen Kutter Tools are tempered for lasting edges and once sharpened stay sharp indefinitely.

For the home they are ideal, doing better work with less attention than the ordinary nameless kinds.

ALSO, A
LOT of FINE BUGGIES

Mike Brown,
The Square Deal Man.

Purely Personal

Miss Maria Cabilish of Charleston, W. Va., will arrive today to attend the funeral of Mrs.
Sallie Orr.

Mr. Henry Held and son, Eugene, of Newport, are visiting the former's mother, Mrs.
Charles H. Nicholson of Limestone street.

Miss Margaret W. Rice and sister, Miss Elizabeth T. Howard, of East Third street are visiting friends and relatives at Williamsburg, O.

Mrs. Alex. Touchman of Piqua, O., is visiting her mother and sister, Mrs. M. O'Keefe and Miss Margaret O'Keefe of Limestone street.

Mr. George E. Neal, who has been with her husband on a trip through the South, spent the night with her cousin, Mrs. A. F. Curran, leaving this morning to visit her parents in Dover.

Col. Ralph R. Maltby of Washington left yesterday for Pulaski, Oswego county, New York, where he will remain for a month with relatives drinking in the health-giving breezes of Lake Ontario.

Mrs. Melinda Thomas

Mrs. Melinda Thomas, died at her home on Fifth avenue, Dayton, Ky., at 9:30 Sunday evening, aged 87 years. She was the widow of John Thomas, whose father conducted a pottery in the West End of this city many years ago. The deceased has relatives living here.

FROU-FROU!

The most delicious wafer ever made. This, the original, is made in Holland. Your guest or family will be delighted.
TRY IT. DO IT NOW. EVERYBODY IS.

GEISEL & CONRAD.

Phone 43.

A BIG BARGAIN IN OLIVES

25c BOTTLE FOR 15c.

Try Heinz's Spiced Salad Vinegar, something new for making salads, and Cream of Pea Soup.
You will like them.

The Quality Grocer.
Masonic Temple Bldg. J. C. CABLISH

OAK FLOORING THE BEST ON EARTH

And of our own make. We are now in position to give you most any kind of a floor that you should want. We can furnish flooring made from OAK, POPLAR, PINE, ASH, BEECH or BLACK WALNUT, or from any of our NATIVE WOODS, and at reasonable prices. Some as low as $2 per hundred.
For something fancy let us make you a QUARTERED OAK floor, you will be proud of it. Finish your best room with oak. You can get it at

THE MASON LUMBER CO.

Cor. Limestone and Second Streets. 'Phone 519.

Agents for Deering Machinery.

A. A. McLAUGHLIN, J. N. BEHAN.

WEATHER REPORT

LOCAL SHOWERS TODAY; FAIR
FRIDAY.

To Whom it May Concern

I will not be responsible for, or pay any debts contracted by anyone, whatever, in my name after this date.

THOMAS A. HICKMAN, SR.

July 10th, 1912.

Trying to Save Husband

FRANKFORT, KY., July 10th.—Every effort is being put forth to save from execution
James Ellis, alleged slayer of Squire Beatty at Buraside. Attorney Robert Harding of Danville, who is working without pay, called on Acting Governor McDermott, accompanied by Ellis' 18-year-old wife and six-month-old baby, pleading for the prisoner's life.

DEATHS

MRS. SARAH JANE COX.

Mrs. Sarah Jane Cox, widow of H. H. Cox, passed away yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock at her home in E st Second street, Fifth Ward, after a six weeks' illness, aged 78 years.

Decedent was a daughter of Orlando and Julie Carroll Parker and was a pioneer resident of Maysville, where she was beloved and highly esteemed for her Christian character. She is survived by one daughter, Miss Julia Cox, the last member of her immediate family.

The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from her late home in E st
Second street, with services by Rev. Dr. John Barbour, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, of which the deceased was one of its oldest members.

Interment in Maysville Cemetery.

QUIET WEDDING

Miss Myra Perrie Duke of This City United to Mr. M. M. Gary of North Carolina

Last evening at 8 o'clock the nuptials of Miss Myra Perrie Duke of this city, and Mr.
Meredith M. Gary of Henderson, N. C.,
were quietly solemnized at the bride's home,
the residence of Mrs. J. F. Perrie, in East Third street. Rev. J. H. Fielding, Rector of the Church of the Nativity speaking at the holy words that joined the happy couple for life.

The wedding was informal, only a score of relatives and close friends being present.

Miss Lida Berry and Miss Stella Archdeacon on piano and violin furnished the nuptial music.

There were no bridesmaids; Mr. Henry
Buell of Richmond, Va., a cousin of the groom, was best man.

The bride is the handsome daughter of Mrs.
Alexander Duke of this county, who makes her home with Mrs. J. F. Perrie of this city, and with whom the newly wedded pair will reside on their return from their bridal tour.

Following a brief reception and congratulations the newly-weds departed at 10 o'clock last night for Cincinnati, per auto, driven by Mr. John Dudley Kaith. From Cincinnati the bride and groom go to Coada on a long bridal journey, returning to Maysville where they will be at home after August.

Among those present were Mrs. Alexander
Duke, the bride's mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. H.
Woodford of Paris, the latter the bride's sister,
Mrs. Dr. M. H. Davy, Mr. and Mrs. Gus B.
Brooks and Mrs. Anna F. Wilson of Maysville;
Mrs. A. C. Reopse, Lexington, Mr. James
Gary of New York, a brother of the groom and Mr. Henry Buell, a cousin of Richmond, Va.

Canteloupes!

Peaches and All Kinds of Fruit.

PHONE 454.

DINGER & FREUND

LEADING RETAILERS,
MARKET STREET.

Maysville Girl Injured

MT. Sterling Gazette.

Miss Marie Early of Maysville, who is the guest of Misses Olive and Kathryn Wood, sprained both her ankles Sunday afternoon when the front wheel on the trap in which she was driving came off pitching her into the road. She was very painfully injured and rendered helpless for several days. She is now much improved.

E. S. Deteviller of the C. & O. engineer corps, has returned to West Virginia after spending a few days with friends here.

A. J. Thompson of Garrard county sold 75 head of 225-pound hogs to Jerry Caldwell of Boyle county, the bunch being of his own raising, at $7.12½ per hundred.

J. L. Hutchins of Boyle county bought 275 head of lambs the past week at Somerset that averaged 68 pounds each, for which he paid about 5½ cents per pound.

IRO-QUINO TONIC

Just the tonic for this time of year. It is considered one of the most energetic blood makers, vital restoratives and the most certain means of invigoration in exhausting diseases, loss of blood or debility.
An ideal tonic for the tired feeling.

50 CENTS BOTTLE.

M. F. WILLIAMS & CO. "Big Drugstore With the Little Price."

D. HECHINGER & CO.

OUR SEMI-ANNUAL SALE OF THE REMAINING STOCK OF

SPRING and SUMMER CLOTHES

Now in full blast. "Nothing reserved." Alder-Rochester, Hirsch Wickwire, College Brand and Michaels, Stern & Co. Most of you know the excellence and high standard of these Brands. All of them included in this sale.

Liberal reduction in Hanan and Nettleton Oxford shoes.

Our stock of Hot-Weather Clothing and furnishing goods is still at its best. Our delightfully cool Linen Crash Suits, "Price $6," are rapidly clearing our counters. Get one before they are gone.

Linen Crash Pants in all sizes.

The best stock of Straw and Panama Hats in town.

D. HECHINGER & CO.

Maysville's Leading Clothing and Shoe Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Cabilish of East Second street are visiting relatives in Cincinnati and Newport.

Miss Rebecca Putney of Charleston, W. Va., is the charming young guest of Miss Minerva
Stockton of West Third street.

Alex Walker of the Lancaster flouring mills bought 100 barrels of corn from Taylor Rane for $5 a barrel.

We acknowledge receipt of a complimentary ticket to Penn Grove Camp Meeting at Mt.
Olivet, July 1st-15th.

Miss Annabelle Hall and sister Wannie are at Huntington, W. Va., enjoying a month's visit with their cousin, Carroll and Velma Marshall. Their father, Mr. James H. Hall, accompanied them, returning to Maysville Tuesday.

SATURDAY.....

We will open our July Clearance Sale. Nearly every department in the store will contribute its quota of seasonable goods. We say seasonable advisedly, for the bargains we offer will be summer merchandise, the kind you want NOW.

Every offering is from our regular stock, not a piece of cheap "sale goods" in the lot.

There is quality in every offering but not quantity for some lots are small, so promptness will repay you if you desire the widest possible choice. Many attractive bargains will not be listed for lack of space—come to the store if you want to see EVERYTHING.

Price particulars in tomorrow's paper.

1852

HUNT'S

1912

WILL DROP DELINQUENTS

We have just received notice from the Postal authorities that we can not send papers at the pound rate to subscribers who are more than a year in arrears. If you are in arrears pay up now or we will have to cut you off.

Mrs. Louis A. Naden of 214 Lee street has returned home, after a two weeks' visit with her son, Harold, who resides in Indianapolis,
Ind. She was accompanied by her niece, Miss Jeanette Snyder of Newtown, Ohio, who will spend a few weeks with her.

Smoke Masonian and La Tosca, 5 cents
Cincinnati Lodge No. 5 is making splendid progress in raising funds for the new Elks' Temple, which will be constructed in the near future, over $30,000 having been raised to date.

ALWAYS ASK FOR GOOD GLOBE STAMPS AT MERZ BROS.
C. C. CALHOUN.
SCHATZMANN'S China Store.
GLOBE STAMP CO.

WHITE PIQUE SKIRTS

Another shipment just arrived. The season's greatest value.

$1.25

Compare them with any pique skirt in the world at this price.

MERZ BROS.

THE PUBLIC LEDGER

DAILY—EXCEPT SUNDAY, FOURTH OF JULY, THANKSGIVING AND CHRISTMAS

A. F. CURRAN, - - - - Editor and Publisher.

Local and Long Distance Telephone No. 40. OFFICE—PUBLIC LEDGER BUILDING, MAYSVILLE, KY.

SUBSCRIPTIONS—BY MAIL

One Year $5.00
Six Months $3.00
Three Months $1.50
Two Months 75
One Month 25 Cents

DELIVERED BY CARRIER.

Per Month 25 Cents

Payable to Collector at end of Month.

ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS ARE CASH IN ADVANCE.

W. H. Taft.

J. S. Sherman.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
JAMES S. SHERMAN.

If the business men of the South would vote as they think there would be no solid South.—Binghamton Republican.

"You cannot make converts to Free-Trade in cities black with the smoke of fires that would never have been lighted except for a Tariff," said David B. Hill.

The next time you hear W. J. Bryan preaching about the love of the Savior ask him how the Savior would have treated Champ Clark.—Carlisle Mercury.

Really, now, when you get right down to the bottom of things, isn't it the man who can raise the most money who has the best chance in a direct primary?

Reduce or remove the duty on sugar, combined capital will then control the sugar market of the world and the price will advance.—Wolfeboro (N. H.) News.

The Democratic idea of Tariff legislation is that it pays to throw a man out of work in order to buy what he produces a few cents cheaper.—Bristol (Pa.) Courier.

With nearly $100,000,000 in the cash drawer of the United States Treasury officials are of the belief that it will not be necessary to issue bonds for construction work on the Panama Canal for nearly a year.

There were 1,359 strikes reported from October 1st, 1910, to September 30th, 1911, involving directly 170,526 workers, at a cost for relief of $4,882,852. It is estimated that the total cost of these strikes to all the interests involved will not fall short of $25,000,000.

"We stand not for the abuses of the Tariff, but for its beneficent uses," declared Secretary Root. It would be difficult to frame words into a more felicitous stating of the true Republican doctrine concerning the great system of Protection of American industry and American labor.

The Democrats and the Roosevelt men are circulating the most absurd canards about Taft pulling off the ticket. Taft will remain the nominee of the Republican party if he only gets one vote, and he is certain of at least one vote that we know of—the editor of The PUBLIC LEDGER.

Roosevelt is playing his last bluff, that of trying to force Taft to withdraw as the Republican nominee. Nobody but a dampfhoof will pay any serious attention to these rumors. What would the National Committee and the 561 delegates who nominated Taft, think if he should withdraw, and what would anybody think if he should drop out of the presidential race, and leave the field to Wilson? The battle is on between Taft and Wilson and the best man will win.

In a recent decision, the United States Supreme Court holds that the authority of the Commerce Court, created two years ago, is limited to questions of law; that the Interstate Commerce Commission has exclusive jurisdiction over Federal rate acts, and that the Commerce Court cannot nullify its decisions upon questions of fact.

Consul George Gifford reports that the women and girls employed in the manufacture of underwear and waists in the Basle district of Switzerland work 10 to 10½ hours a day and earn, according to their experience and capacity, 50 cents to $1, the latter sum being paid only to a few persons of exceptional skill capable of directing the business.

The Democrats always proceed on the theory that the American producer is a robber and the foreign producer a philanthropist. The indisputable facts are that whether it be a reduction of Tariff duties on hides, on lumber, on shoes, on glass on coffee or any other thing, the foreigner invariably stiffens his price, and between him and the importers the consumer gets no benefit whatever.—Webster (South Dakota) World.

The "reformers" in Oregon have a new scheme of Government. Instead of electing a number of State officers they now propose the creation of a Governor's Cabinet, which would consist of such officials as the State Treasurer, Secretary of State, Attorney-General, Superintendent of Public Instruction and Labor Commissioner, who would be appointive rather than elective. The Senate branch of the Legislature is to be dispensed with and the Governor is to be given a seat in the single chamber, and that functionary would also be invested with the power to control District Attorneys, Sheriff's and all administrative boards and commissions, which would be appointed and answerable to him, which means that they are going to swing over from the ultra-democratic idea of selecting every official from President to poundkeeper by direct vote to that of extreme centralization of authority in the hands of a single trusted individual.

The advocates of tariff reduction have received an accession from unexpected quarters. The merchants and manufacturers of France are not responding with enthusiasm to the invitation to send exhibits to the Panama-Pacific Exhibition. The reason which they give is that the American tariff shuts out French goods, and they claim that it ought to be reduced. If the question of tariff revision could be referred to our European competitors the vote in favor of lower duties would be unanimous. Fortunately Americans have been wise enough, usually, to frame our tariff laws to benefit American business, not foreign business. The policy of protection has been good for the United States in the past. It is good for us today and it will continue to be the wisest system for the country. The combination of free traders and foreign producers should not be allowed to overthrow protection and destroy our industries.

THE FEMININE IDEA.

Senator Williams, at a dinner in Yazoo, said in condemnation of a mooted tariff change:

"They who advocate this change know just as much about the tariff as the old lady knew about fire insurance."

"This old lady visited an insurance office, and insured her barn for $3,500. The policy was drawn up, signed and handed over to her, and she put it in her cabinet and started out."

"But hold on, ma'am," said the agent. "I must ask you, please, for the first year's premium."

"The first year's premium?" said she. "And how much will that be?"

"There it is ma'am, written on the policy," said the agent. "A small matter of $24."

"Oh," said the old lady, "I'm in a hurry this morning. You just let the premiums stand and deduct them when the barn burns down."

One of the Faculty.

FACTS COUNT! HOT AIR IS CHEAP!

Newspaper advertising costs money. Therefore we believe in stating facts in our advertising space instead of wasting it on hot air. Some days ago a man said to us that if we would sell him a small house bill as cheaply as a certain Chicago mail order house that he would buy it. We sold it Saturday.

OHIO RIVER LUMBER CO., UNION STREET, NEAR SECOND.

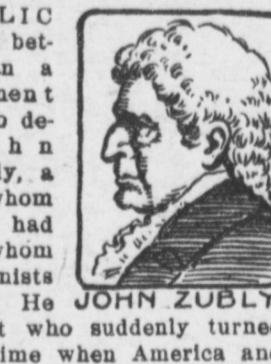

Historic Blackguards

By Albert Payson Terhune

Copyright, by The Press Publishing Co. (The New York World)

John Zubly, the American Patriot Who Turned Traitor

A REPUBLIC is little better than a government of devils! "So declared John Joachim Zubly, a man on whom our country had relied, and whom he Revolutionists had trusted. He was a patriot who suddenly turned traitor at a time when America and England needed every true man's aid.

The colonists had long groaned under British oppression. When they rose against England, in 1775, it was less with an idea of breaking loose from the mother country than of showing resentment by force of arms where argument and appeal had failed. They simply wished to bring England to her senses and to obtain relief from injustice. Even George Washington in later years confessed: "The idea of independence was at first abhorrent to me."

But soon he and all the rest of the patriots realized that the time for half-way measures had passed. There must be either dumb submission or open defiance. And, should they choose defiance, they must free the colonies wholly from the British yoke and declare our country free and independent.

It was to discuss this that the continental congress met at Philadelphia in 1776.

We are apt to think that congress was a collection of ardent patriots, panting for liberty at any price. This was not wholly true. While the majority of the delegates were firm in their resolve to declare for independence, several of them threatened to balk at so rash a step.

Nor can they be severely blamed for hesitating. They were men of property and importance. They had more to lose than had most Americans. Should the Revolution fail their goods would doubtless be seized by the British government and they themselves would be hanged. As Benjamin Franklin said, in grim jest:

"We must hang together or we'll hang separately!"

But, to their eternal credit, these wary delegates at last yielded to the popular voice. The Declaration of Independence was drawn up, and on July 4, 1776, was adopted (although it was not signed until the next month). The grave step was taken. The congressmen stood committed. The had "crossed the Rubicon" and were ready to take the consequences.

There was one exception to this band of patriots. He was John Joachim Zubly, a Swiss, who had emigrated to America in early life and had settled in Georgia.

Zubly was not only prominent as a scholar and a statesman, but was a preacher as well.

He had shown great indignation at the colonists' wrongs and had both written and spoken in protest against tyranny.

So patriotic was he that George chose him as one of its five delegates to congress in 1775. There he worked hard for the people's cause and even drew up a petition to King George III "upon the present unhappy situation of affairs."

Altogether, he was looked upon as an ardent patriot. Indeed it is hard to understand the sudden and terrible change in the man.

As soon as Zubly found congress was determined to adopt the Declaration, he fought the proposition most bitterly and utterly refused any part in it. He denounced the idea of a republic and did everything in his power to stem the tide of opinion.

Had this been all he did no great shame need to have been attached to him. But he was not content with refusing to vote for the Declaration.

He actually entered into secret correspondence with the enemy, betraying to the British the patriots' private plans and giving warning that the Declaration was about to be adopted.

What further harm he might have done is unknown.

For a fellow congressman (Samuel Chase of Maryland) found reason to suspect him. A treasonable letter from Zubly was intercepted.

Chase exposed the man's whole black treachery to congress.

Zubly fled in hot haste from Philadelphia to escape punishment. He went at once to Georgia. There, utterly casting away his cloak of patriotism, he sided openly with America's foes.

For this he was banished from Georgia and half of his property was declared forfeit.

He rushed to the British for protection. After a few years of misery and disgrace he died, in 1781, with the Revolutionary war was still at its height.

Zubly fled in hot haste from Philadelphia to escape punishment. He went at once to Georgia. There, utterly casting away his cloak of patriotism, he sided openly with America's foes.

For this he was banished from Georgia and half of his property was declared forfeit.

He rushed to the British for protection. After a few years of misery and disgrace he died, in 1781, with the Revolutionary war was still at its height.

Zubly fled in hot haste from Philadelphia to escape punishment. He went at once to Georgia. There, utterly casting away his cloak of patriotism, he sided openly with America's foes.

For this he was banished from Georgia and half of his property was declared forfeit.

He rushed to the British for protection. After a few years of misery and disgrace he died, in 1781, with the Revolutionary war was still at its height.

Zubly fled in hot haste from Philadelphia to escape punishment. He went at once to Georgia. There, utterly casting away his cloak of patriotism, he sided openly with America's foes.

For this he was banished from Georgia and half of his property was declared forfeit.

He rushed to the British for protection. After a few years of misery and disgrace he died, in 1781, with the Revolutionary war was still at its height.

Zubly fled in hot haste from Philadelphia to escape punishment. He went at once to Georgia. There, utterly casting away his cloak of patriotism, he sided openly with America's foes.

For this he was banished from Georgia and half of his property was declared forfeit.

He rushed to the British for protection. After a few years of misery and disgrace he died, in 1781, with the Revolutionary war was still at its height.

Zubly fled in hot haste from Philadelphia to escape punishment. He went at once to Georgia. There, utterly casting away his cloak of patriotism, he sided openly with America's foes.

For this he was banished from Georgia and half of his property was declared forfeit.

He rushed to the British for protection. After a few years of misery and disgrace he died, in 1781, with the Revolutionary war was still at its height.

Zubly fled in hot haste from Philadelphia to escape punishment. He went at once to Georgia. There, utterly casting away his cloak of patriotism, he sided openly with America's foes.

For this he was banished from Georgia and half of his property was declared forfeit.

He rushed to the British for protection. After a few years of misery and disgrace he died, in 1781, with the Revolutionary war was still at its height.

Zubly fled in hot haste from Philadelphia to escape punishment. He went at once to Georgia. There, utterly casting away his cloak of patriotism, he sided openly with America's foes.

For this he was banished from Georgia and half of his property was declared forfeit.

He rushed to the British for protection. After a few years of misery and disgrace he died, in 1781, with the Revolutionary war was still at its height.

Zubly fled in hot haste from Philadelphia to escape punishment. He went at once to Georgia. There, utterly casting away his cloak of patriotism, he sided openly with America's foes.

For this he was banished from Georgia and half of his property was declared forfeit.

He rushed to the British for protection. After a few years of misery and disgrace he died, in 1781, with the Revolutionary war was still at its height.

Zubly fled in hot haste from Philadelphia to escape punishment. He went at once to Georgia. There, utterly casting away his cloak of patriotism, he sided openly with America's foes.

For this he was banished from Georgia and half of his property was declared forfeit.

He rushed to the British for protection. After a few years of misery and disgrace he died, in 1781, with the Revolutionary war was still at its height.

Zubly fled in hot haste from Philadelphia to escape punishment. He went at once to Georgia. There, utterly casting away his cloak of patriotism, he sided openly with America's foes.

For this he was banished from Georgia and half of his property was declared forfeit.

He rushed to the British for protection. After a few years of misery and disgrace he died, in 1781, with the Revolutionary war was still at its height.

Zubly fled in hot haste from Philadelphia to escape punishment. He went at once to Georgia. There, utterly casting away his cloak of patriotism, he sided openly with America's foes.

For this he was banished from Georgia and half of his property was declared forfeit.

He rushed to the British for protection. After a few years of misery and disgrace he died, in 1781, with the Revolutionary war was still at its height.

Zubly fled in hot haste from Philadelphia to escape punishment. He went at once to Georgia. There, utterly casting away his cloak of patriotism, he sided openly with America's foes.

For this he was banished from Georgia and half of his property was declared forfeit.

He rushed to the British for protection. After a few years of misery and disgrace he died, in 1781, with the Revolutionary war was still at its height.

Zubly fled in hot haste from Philadelphia to escape punishment. He went at once to Georgia. There, utterly casting away his cloak of patriotism, he sided openly with America's foes.

For this he was banished from Georgia and half of his property was declared forfeit.

He rushed to the British for protection. After a few years of misery and disgrace he died, in 1781, with the Revolutionary war was still at its height.

Zubly fled in hot haste from Philadelphia to escape punishment. He went at once to Georgia. There, utterly casting away his cloak of patriotism, he sided openly with America's foes.

For this he was banished from Georgia and half of his property was declared forfeit.

He rushed to the British for protection. After a few years of misery and disgrace he died, in 1781, with the Revolutionary war was still at its height.

Zubly fled in hot haste from Philadelphia to escape punishment. He went at once to Georgia. There, utterly casting away his cloak of patriotism, he sided openly with America's foes.

For this he was banished

Public

Ledger

WEEKLY REPUBLICAN—1897.
DAILY PUBLIC LEDGER—1898.

MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, JULY 11 1912.

ONE COPY—ONE CENT.

Love is a funny stuff. It will make a pretty little girl scuttle up to an ugly, sweaty man who hasn't shaved for a week and calls him "perty."

OUR WEEKLY SPORT LETTER

BY C. H. ZUBER.

CINCINNATI, O., July 10th, 1912.
Now that the wonderful winning streak of Rube Marquard of the New York Giants has been broken, after a string of nineteen consecutive victories, the Cubs, Pirates and Reds are looking forward to a further decrease in the efficacy of McGraw's men, and a consequent increase in the prospects of the other first division teams for overtaking the Gothams. Marquard's record undoubtedly is the greatest ever made by a pitcher, period and general conditions considered. There are several instances where a greater number of victories have been chalked up for a twirler, but in the days when these records were established scientific batting had not reached its present advanced stage, nor were pitchers compelled to fling the ball as great a distance as under existing rules, the former marks being set with the twirlers but 45 feet from the batsmen, while Marquard's record was made at 60 feet pitching distance. There are many observations by critics to the effect that the Rube was extremely lucky in some of the games he won, while in others he pitched but a few innings. However that may be, he has performed wonderfully, and deserves all the credit it is possible to give him.

No new player in the National League this year has attracted as much attention from the general baseball public as Armando Marsans, the clever utility man of the Cincinnati team. If there is a weakness to Marsans' playing it has not yet been discovered. His hitting is considerable over the 30 mark; his base running is second only to that of Bob Bescher; he fields wonderfully; his strength and accuracy as a thrower are hardly surpassed in either of the big leagues together, while in the matter of intelligence and enthusiasm he displays brands that are revelations. When Marsans was purchased by the Cincinnati Club it was sort of a second choice to Almeida, the clever third baseman. Here was another case of Geier and Lajoie of years ago. The Philadelphia club was anxious to buy Geier from Woonsocket, and took Lajoie as a good measure. Before long it developed that Lajoie was a much greater player than Geier—and he's been a wonder ever since. The case is slightly different with Almeida and Marsans in that Almeida also looks so good that he will be back with the Reds in the fall.

The eastern teams seem to be showing better form on their present tour of the West than they did when they made their first invasion of these parts in May. Brooklyn and Philadelphia in particular are playing harder games, both these teams claiming to enjoy good prospects of landing in the first division. This is ed by the teams now occupying berths in the first section, the Reds being particularly vehement in declaring that from now on they are going forward instead of backward. The addition of Davis, the star twirler of the Knoxville team, and a youngster of the name of Brown from Oxford, O., is believed to have strengthened the twirling department considerably. The Reds will be at home for about two weeks more, still having games with Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Boston and New York. The Phils are the attraction for next Sunday, July 14th, while the Giants open here on Sunday, July 21st.

The defeat of Jim Flynn by Jack Johnson on the Fourth of July caused no surprise, but

GEM THEATER

MATINEE and NIGHT ONLY

Pothe Weekly No. 25
Ses All. Knows All.
The Biograph Company Presents
Lena and the Geese
Edison Offers
The Passion Flower
Drama.
best projected pictures in the city. The Pathé Weekly every Thursday.
Don't Miss It.

Master ROBERT STRAUS
Violinist, at every performance.

EVERY PERSON ATTENDING our daily matinees will be given a chance on $50 in gold.

KOOL AND KOZY

the fact that Flynn made such a poor showing against his burly colored opponent did, as it was thought that Flynn had something which would justify his battling with "Lil Atah." Those who were at the ringside declare that Flynn simply tried to hit his way to the championship, and that Johnson could have knocked him out at almost any stage of the game had he so desired. It was only to make the moving picture film as long as possible that Johnson allowed Flynn to stay on his feet until the police stopped the match. Johnson declares that any "white hopes" who are lying around had better get busy, as he intends to retire from the ring within a year. His next fight promises to be with Al Paizer, the Iowa farmer on Labor Day. More easy money.

While the Olympic games at Stockholm, Sweden, still have something more than a week to run, it seems pretty certain that the United States again will carry off more points than any other nation entered not even excepting Sweden, whose home athletes are extremely numerous in many of the events. The Americans have shown marked superiority over the rivals in the straight track and field events, winning all three places in the track events on two occasions, and getting points in practically every event that has been decided so far. The great disappointment of the games has been the poor showing of the English athletes who seem strong in no particular department of the program. It should not be forgotten that the Americans, in gaining their victories, have broken several world's and a number of Olympian records.

Further proof of the success of the Parimutuel machine is inspiring confidence in turf matters comes from Louisville and Vancouver. Because of the increased interest in turf affairs in Kentucky, due to the "iron bookmakers," the Louisville Jockey Club has been able to increase the purse for the big endurance Handicap of the fall meeting to $15,000—the largest purse offered in the Old Commonwealth in years. Up in Vancouver the parimutuels have been so successful that the jockey club has increased the size of the daily purses. Eastern turfmen ought to get wise and install this system. It would mean the revival of the racing game in New York and therabouts.

There is nothing that tames a man's evil disposition so effectually as punishment.

Sixty-five hundred poplar trees in Letcher county were sold for $75,000, the deal being the largest in this timber for many years.

Raphael's "Madonna of St. Anthony" for which J. P. Morgan paid $500,000, has been transferred from the National Gallery, London, to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York.

In view of numerous fatal aeroplane accidents in Europe, American naval officers are seeking to develop a type of air craft proof against overturning in case of engine stoppage.

In making a landing at New Albany the showboat Golden Rod, towed by the steamer W. R. Marke, crashed into the steamer Royal, a small coast trade steamer, almost demolishing the boat and causing it to sink.

The defeat of Jim Flynn by Jack Johnson on the Fourth of July caused no surprise, but Mar is not quite so rich, for scientists have proved that the normal man has five times as much blood as the woman only four and a half million to a cubic millimeter of blood.

A decrease in number of red blood corpuscles and a person "looks pale"—in fact, is anemic, the blood does not get the right food and probably the stomach is disordered.

Dr. H. V. Pierce found years ago that a glycerine extract of golden seal and Oregon grape roots, queen's root and bloodroot with black cherrybark, would help the assimilation of the food in the stomach, correct liver ill and in Nature's own way increase the red blood corpuscles. This medicine he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By assimilating the food eaten the system is nourished and the blood takes on a rich red color. Nervousness is only "the cry of the starved nerves for food" and when the nerves are fed on rich red blood the person loses those irritable feelings, sleeps well at night and is refreshed in the morning.

"I was attacked with a severe nervous disease, which was caused by a disordered stomach and liver," writes Mr. Jas. D. Lively, of Washington, Tenn., Route 2, Box 2. "All my friends thought it would die and the best physicians were unable to treat it. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and derived much benefit from same. My case had run so long, it had become so chronic that nothing would effect a cure. I heartily advise its use as a spring tonic and further advise selling people to take Dr. Pierce's medicine before their disease has run so long that there is no chance to cure it."

"I was attacked with a severe nervous disease, which was caused by a disordered stomach and liver," writes Mr. Jas. D. Lively, of Washington, Tenn., Route 2, Box 2. "All my friends thought it would die and the best physicians were unable to treat it. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and derived much benefit from same. My case had run so long, it had become so chronic that nothing would effect a cure. I heartily advise its use as a spring tonic and further advise selling people to take Dr. Pierce's medicine before their disease has run so long that there is no chance to cure it."

D. Lively, Esq.
Pierce's Medical Advisory, 31 stamp, to pay for wrapping and mailing only.

IN THE LIMELIGHT

STIMSON APPROVES NEW BILL

A substitute for the militia pay bill has been submitted to Secretary Stimson and has secured his approval. The pay of officers of the militia in this bill is a percentage of that of officers of like grade in the regular army, not including longevity pay, as follows: Five per cent. to all general officers commanding a division or brigade, including authorized officers detailed for duty therewith, the division and brigade inspectors of small arms practice, if any, the authorized aide chaplains; 20 per cent. to commanding officers of companies, troops, battalions and ambulance companies and to adjutants and quartermasters of regiments, independent battalions, squadrons and coast artillery districts, including medical officers doing duty or assigned to regiments or smaller tactical units or coast artillery districts, medical officers serving with field hospitals and veterans.

The enlisted men, it is provided, shall receive compensation at the same rate as the enlisted man of the corresponding grade of the regular army at the rate of 25 per cent. of the initial pay now provided by law for enlisted men of corresponding grade of the regular army, provided no soldier shall have attended not less than 45 regular drills during one year and a proportionate amount for attendance upon a lesser number of such drills not less than 20. No money is to be paid to any person not on the active list, nor to any person not over 64 years of age, nor to any person who fails to qualify as to fitness for military service. In time of war, or when war is imminent, or other grave emergency, the president may by order transfer to the army any portion of the organized militia receiving, or entitled to receive, the benefits of the act to serve therefor for the balance of their respective terms of enlistment or commissions. Such part of the militia will be a part of the army.

shall receive compensation at the same rate as the enlisted man of the corresponding grade of the regular army at the rate of 25 per cent. of the initial pay now provided by law for enlisted men of corresponding grade of the regular army, provided no soldier shall have attended not less than 45 regular drills during one year and a proportionate amount for attendance upon a lesser number of such drills not less than 20. No money is to be paid to any person not on the active list, nor to any person not over 64 years of age, nor to any person who fails to qualify as to fitness for military service. In time of war, or when war is imminent, or other grave emergency, the president may by order transfer to the army any portion of the organized militia receiving, or entitled to receive, the benefits of the act to serve therefor for the balance of their respective terms of enlistment or commissions. Such part of the militia will be a part of the army.

SEEKS WAYS TO ABOLISH WAR

Baroness Bertha von Suttner of Vienna, famous among other things because it was she who inspired the founding of the Nobel prizes, is in America on a mission unique among those undertaken by women of the Old World among the women of the New. She is here to tell her sisters what she knows of the horrors of war and to appeal to the women of the United States to do their utmost toward the abolition of war.

The campaign for peace undertaken last spring by Baron d'Estournelles de Constant of France was noteworthy. For three months Baron d'Estournelles himself, a Nobel prize winner, went through the country, and everywhere his arguments were heard with interest. So also in the case of Count Albert Apponyi people crowded to hear what the Hungarian parliamentarian had to say about the cost of armed peace now prevailing in Europe. But, much as these advocates for peace accomplished here, there stood arrayed against them continually the pie of necessity, the pie that ever increasing armaments were an absolute essential. Neither the Frenchman nor the Hungarian cared to depart from parliamentary usages, and for this reason they permitted their arguments to go before the people exactly for what they were worth.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics.

She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law and parliamentary argument. Her most effective appeal will be to sentiment. As one who knows from experience the horrors of war, the Baroness von Suttner will be able to make this appeal effectively.

The Baroness von Suttner comes to this country to try different tactics. She may agree with her fellow workers in Europe that the nations are burdened with armaments to the breaking point, that the patience of the people themselves is well nigh exhausted, that the times portend that conditions cannot continue as at present; but she has something more effective at her command than international law

Who wants to save money? Everybody! Now is your big chance, for

Our New 1913 Suits Are Reduced in Price

See West window for $18 Suits Now $12.50!

Come in just as soon
as you can, won't you?

Geo. H. Frank & Co.
Maysville's Foremost Clothiers.

PUBLIC LEDGER
MAYSVILLE, KY.

Tuesday morning Tom Redmond, while cutting hay on a farm near Flemingsburg, took refuge under a tree from a shower and was struck by lightning. He is in a serious condition.

Has Bought 5,000 Lambs

Victor Ross shipped from Cynthians on Monday four double deck loads of lambs to the Cincinnati market that cost seven cents. On last Friday he shipped a double deck load to Cincinnati that cost him 8 cents. He says he has purchased over 5,000 lambs, all of which cost him from 7 to 8 cents.

WANTS A BLONDE

A Hoosier Gent on Matrimony Bent
Asks Aid to Find a Nice
Girl For a Wife

Paris Kentuckian.
Mayor J. T. Hinton is in receipt of the following letter which is self-explanatory:

THE LETTER.

My Dear Mayor:
I shall this morning take the pleasure of writing to you for information as to concerning to get you to find me a real nice girl for a wife.

I am sincerely now & want to get one that will try & make me happy. I am only 23 years of age & have good habits; don't use nothing to drink except that which makes our Fathers healthy. I am of German-Irish-American descent; have good character, honest, hard worker & Lover of all out of door sports except "Races." I shall now write you my description.

5 feet 3 inches.

Weight 150 lbs.

Brown eyes, fair complexion, quick & active, Auburn hair, & of a Jolly disposition.

Would like to hear from all girls whom have a desire to get married in 1912. These who are not past 26 may drop over a few lines to me for exchange of Photo later.

So thanking you for same & shall Return you something real nice as soon as I find my "Ideal."

tell all the Blondes to write.

I Remain, Yours Respect,

MR. EDIE LYDE LOVERLEY,
South Bend, Indiana.

Indiana Lumber Manufacturing Co.

Our Colored Citizens.

Mr. Edward Chambers, delegate from Mayville Star Lodge No. 1948, I. O. O. F., is at tending the State Grand Lodge at Somerset, Ky.

BASEBALL RESULTS

YESTERDAY'S GAMES.
Blue Grass League.
Mayfield, rain.
Frankfort 5, Lexington 3.
Richmond Mt. Sterling, rain.

WHERE THEY PLAY TODAY.
Mayfield at Mt. Sterling.
Lexington at Richmond.
Frankfort at Paris.

STANDING OF CLUBS.
Win. Lost. Per.
Frankfort 48 21 .606
MAYSVILLE 46 31 .657
Lexington 38 33 .583
Richmond 31 38 .449
Paris 27 41 .397
Mt. Sterling 17 54 .239

YESTERDAY'S GAMES.
National League.
Cincinnati-Brooklyn, rain.
Philadelphia-Pittsburgh, rain.
Chicago 3, New York 6.
Boston-St. Louis, called in fourth on account of darkness with score standing St. Louis 1, Boston 8.

American League.
Detroit 11, New York 3.
Philadelphia 1, Chicago 4.
Boston 2, St. Louis 9.
Washington 8, Cleveland 1.

American Association.
Kansas City 4, Indianapolis 1.
Kansas City 6, Indianapolis 8.
St. Paul 2, Toledo 8.
Columbus 3, Minneapolis 1.
Milwaukee 0, Louisville 7.
Milwaukee 7, Louisville 2.

STANDING OF CLUBS.
Win. Lost. Per.
New York 57 15 .791
Chicago 49 28 .600
Pittsburgh 42 32 .598
Cincinnati 36 35 .527
Philadelphia 31 37 .456
St. Louis 20 48 .385
Brooklyn 27 44 .380
Boston 13 54 .300

MARRIAGES

TURNER—HOWELL

Mr. Belio Turner, aged 24, of this city, and Miss Ida Howell, aged 21, of Manchester, O., were married yesterday evening in the County Clerk's office, Judge W. H. Rice officiating.

CHAIN UP YOUR DOG

If You Want Letter Carriers To Deliver Your Mail

WASHINGTON, July 10th—Within the past few weeks the watch dogs of the country have developed such a marked fondness for chewing up mail carriers that the Postoffice Department was moved today to call attention to the regulations which provide that a carrier is not required to humor dogs under any circumstances.

"Carriers," say the regulations, "are not required to deliver mail at residences where vicious dogs are permitted to run at large. Persons keeping such dogs must call at the Postoffice for their mail."

This paragraph in the regulations will be strictly applied from now on, and the owners of dogs must either put them on a diet or keep them locked up if they want mail delivered at their houses.

Advertised Letters

Below is a list of letters remaining uncalled for at the Maysville (Ky.) Postoffice for the week ending July 10, 1912:

Brown, Mrs. Jane Palmer, A. R.
Cridier, A. Y. Pierpont, Jerry
Dickson, Mrs. Effie Prather, Miss Bertha
Farman, E. H. Sharp, Mrs. Dolle
Gillian, Miss Jane Simlick, G. A.
Gier, Phil (2) Sullivan, Egerton
Glen, Miss Mildred Sugerman, J. J.
Haider, Miss Lizzie Sullivan, Mrs. Daisy
Hamilton, Mrs. J. C. Vaughn, Ira
Hunter, Miss May White, Miss Tiana
Johnson, C. B. White, Mrs. Hattie
Masterson, J. W. Willetta Anna
Paul, Harson Tailor

One cent due on each of above.

Persons calling for these letters will please say that they are advertised.

CLARENCE MATHEWS, Postmaster.

Latest News

Secretary MacVeagh denies all rumors that he will resign.

Crop reports continue good, with rains occurring in spring wheat territory.

Electric companies report increased business for the first six months of the year, with prospects for big year bright.

London dispatch says United States plans loaning Republic of Columbia $70,000,000 to put country on sound financial basis.

Mrs. Nancy Evans, 23, and her cousin, Nellie Prestley, 15, of Brent, Ky., were drowned Tuesday afternoon in the Ohio river.

Gus J. Karger of Cincinnati probably will succeed Charles Dewey Hillies in the responsible post of Secretary to the President.

In Stockholm, Sweden, where the Olympic games are being held, the time is seven hours earlier than in Cincinnati, according to the standard method of reckoning.

"Outrages in Mexico are becoming so frequent that this country cannot put up with them any longer. There will be big developments in the Mexican situation in a few days," This was the prediction of Senator Mark Smith of Arizona at the White House.

Lewis M. Lebus succeeds George M. Dickey as Postmaster at Cynthians.

Plans have been outlined by officers of the Kentucky Educational Association to increase the membership of that body 50%.

John W. Clatterbuck of New Bloomfield, Mo., had a jact colt foaled last week that measured three feet and six inches at birth.

H. V. Prentiss held a sale of Jerseys recently at Worcester, Mass. 45 females sold for $14,265, an average of $317; 7 bulls sold for $1,935, an average of $276.

R. C. Campbell and C. W. Johnson, partners, have filed suit in the Mason Circuit Court against Ollie Frogge in which they claim damages in the sum of $125 for non-compliance in a trade for seven head of cattle.

No Court

In deference to the death and funeral of Mrs. Henry Ort, which takes place tomorrow afternoon, Judge John L. Whitaker will not hold his usual session of the Police Court.

No Game Yesterday

The double game of baseball scheduled for yesterday was called off owing to the veritable deluge of rain which fell several times yesterday.

Maysville plays at Mt. Sterling this afternoon.

President Russell and party autod over to Mt. Sterling this morning to witness the ball game this afternoon.

CALF'S BODY; HUMAN FACE

Freak of Nature is Brought From Ashland to Cincinnati

Cincinnati Times-Star.

What is considered one of the greatest freaks of nature ever seen in Cincinnati was brought from Ashland, Ky., Wednesday, by Dr. Edward Fanning. The freak has the body of a calf but the face of a human being.

The creature was born several days ago and lived but a few hours. "This is one of the rarest specimens ever born," said Dr. Fanning, "and it will be presented to some museum as a curiosity."

The body of the monstrosity was taken to Max Woher's Son's establishment on West Sixth avenue, where it was prepared for preservation.

SADDLE HORSES

Will Be An Important Exhibit at Lexington This Year.

Outstanding in importance among the live stock features of the Blue Grass Fair are the two divisions of the National Saddle Horse Futurities to be contested at Lexington on Tuesday, August 13th, and Wednesday, August 14th. On Tuesday the division for foals of 1912, and on Wednesday the one for 1911 division.

This stake was inaugurated last year by the Saddle and Horse Show Chronicle, and proved to be the best and most exciting exhibition ever given in any ring at any Fair, there being 51 exhibits.

The renewal of 1911 stake for yearlings and inaugural of 1912 Futurity, under same conditions as last year are already causing widespread interest throughout the country. The approximate value of each is $1,000, to be divided among the ten best colts or fillies.

The two rings of themselves would make Tuesday and Wednesday the banner days of the Fair.

Three other stakes for saddle horses are also provided: one for $250 for five-gaited saddle horses, any age; one of $200 for five-gaited saddle horses three years old and under; and one of $200 for three-gaited saddle horse and under. These stakes are always hotly contested and to every lover of the horse are worth going miles to see.

ENGAGEMENT EXTRAORDINARY.

The Blue Grass Fair, at Lexington has engaged for the week, August 11 to 17, Buhler, in his sensational, death defying act of lying on the track in front of grand stand and allowing any automobile, any size, any weight, going at full speed, with passengers, to run over his body at the rate of 15 miles an hour.

Don't fail to see Buhler, the automobile fiend, the original and only act of its kind in the world.

Positively no protection used.

Latest Markets.

CINCINNATI MAR KETS,
CINCINNATI, July 10, 1912.

Snippers $6 25@88 00
Cattle $6 25@88 00
Butcher Steers, extra $7 00@88 00
Good to choice $7 00@88 75
Common to fair $4 25@88 00
Hifers, extra $7 00@88 50
Good to choice $7 00@88 25
Common to fair $4 25@88 00
Hogs $7 00@88 25
Packer and butchers $7 75@88 75
Mixed packers $7 00@88 75
Stags $4 00@88 50
Heavy fat sows $5 00@88 75
Extra $8 75@88 75
Light shippers $7 30@88 00
Pigs, 10 pounds and less $5 25@88 50
Sheep $3 85@88 00
Extra $3 85@88 75
Good to good $3 85@88 75
Common to fair $1 00@88 00
Lamb $1 00@88 00
Corn $1 75@88 75
No. 2 white $1 75@88 75
No. 3 white $1 75@88 75
No. 2 mixed $1 75@88 75
No. 3 mixed $1 75@88 75
No. 2 red $1 25@88 14
No. 3 red $1 05@88 11
No. 4 red $0 95@88 05
No. 2 white $1 75@88 75
No. 3 white $1 75@88 75
No. 2 mixed $1 75@88 75
Oats $1 51@88 50
No. 3 mixed $1 51@88 50
No. 1 timothy $1 00@88 50
No. 2 timothy $1 50@88 00
No. 3 timothy $1 50@88 10
No. 1 clover $1 50@88 50
No. 2 clover mixed $1 00@88 00
No. 3 clover mixed $1 75@88 50

Announcements

Announcements for city offices, $2; county offices, $1; state offices, $10 in cash in advance.

To the Democratic Party of Mason County: We are deeply grieved to learn of the recent death of Mr. W. P. Dickson, rendered it necessary that the vacancy in the office of the Clerk of Mason County Court should be filled at the regular session of the court, to be held on the 13th day of August, 1912. We are sending to the Democratic voters of Mason County my candidacy for said office, subject to the result of the State Primary election to be held on August 3d, 1912. Your support is respectfully solicited.

J. J. OWENS.

Administrator's Notice

All persons knowing themselves indebted to the Office of John H. Davis, deceased, are requested to make settlement; all debts and estate will be paid after proper verification.

JAMES F. P. CLIFFORD, Administrator.

At Farmers and Traders Bank.

LOST—The colored man who found a cravat and scarf placed on the L. & N. tracks near the D. & W. tracks, is requested to return same to THE LEDGER office.

LOST—Black wood knob on handle of umbrella. Finder please return to MRS. ELIZABETH KIRK at R. A. Carr's home in Market street. J. W.

LOST—UMBRELLA—Taken from Dieterich's Market street flower store by mistake. Please return there.

LOST—CHILD'S BROWN CHECK COAT—Hornet street, Maysville and Washington. MRS. R. J. HESSETT. J. W.

LOST—BLACK LEATHER PURSE—On Second street Monday, containing a $5 bill, 1.50 and some small change. Finder leave at this office and receive 50 cents.

Found.

Advertisements under this heading are inserted free, but advertisers must furnish the copy.

FOR SALE—LAUNCH—35-foot cabin boat, 34 k. w. Gray motor, suitable for light towing or ferrying. C. A. Kosier, Newport, Ky. J. W.

ATTENTION, MEN!

Let McNamara make your Sleigh Suit. I represent E. W. Price & Co. of Chicago, the strongest line of made-to-measure clothing in the world at popular prices. They specialize in suits made as you want them from $15 to $25. Others made to order from $10 to $20. We are the only house in the United States strong enough financially to control its own patterns, thus assuring you against being uniformed. Aside from the staples, no two patterns alike. Men's & boys' & repeater. Rainwear, we dry clean; others try.

C. F. McNamara

68 WEST FRONT STREET

Price $

Do you see how the square cross-rods at top of head and foot beautify this bed?

Imagine this design with round tubing in those positions. Would not the result be "ordinary" and monotonous?

It is just such details of clever and artistic designing that have made our steel beds so popular. And the very large corner posts with brass caps all combine to make this bed an unusually artistic bed.